

JIM ULLMAN BIO

Jim Ullmann is currently the Director of Safety & Technology for the National Air Traffic Controllers Association. Jim retired from the FAA in September, 2015 after 26 years as an Air Traffic Controller. He was certified at Seattle Center and Denver Center. Jim has served in many positions for NATCA, including as a member of the National Executive Board as the Regional Vice President for the Northwest Mountain Region from 2009-2015. He was also a NATCA national lead for the En Route Automation Modernization (ERAM) project. Jim has two sons both currently on active duty for the U.S. Air Force.